

ABANDONS SUIT ON QUAKER OATS PLAN TO RELIEVE CAR CONGESTION

Washington, D. C. June 1.—Government appeals in the federal anti-trust suit against the Quaker Oats company were dismissed today by the supreme court on motion of the government.

Dissolution of the company under the Sherman act was asked by the government.

The company won in the lower court.

MEXICAN ADMITS THEE THIEF.
John Brown, a city fireman, at 2 o'clock Monday arrested one of two Mexicans who were seen trying to remove the tires from a car standing at 7th Street.

The second man escaped, "new reported." The man arrested, according to the police, admitted that he and a companion were trying to steal the tires. In a car they drove, police say, were found two automobile tires and one wheel. A charge of robbery will be placed against the man.

They're Here! At Billings.
The June crop of Victor Records successes. We send records by parcel post, to any address, insured against loss or breakage. Write for new Victor Records at the store where service is a habit. P. O. Billings Co. (Successors to W. G. Wells) 101 and 103 El Paso. Phone 167-2076.—Adv.

SAY "DIAMOND DYES"
Don't streak or ruin your material in poor dye. Insist on "Diamond Dyes." Easy directions in every package.

GIRLS! MAKE A LEMON BLEACH
Lemons Whiten and Double
Beauty of the Skin

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White which can be had at any drug store, shake well and you have a quart of pink, white and delicate lemon bleach for few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use lemon juice to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion. Lemons have always been used as a fresh, sunburn and tan remover. Make this up and try it.—Adv.

POMPEIAN
OLIVE OIL
Sold Everywhere

Last year's sugar beet crop in the Rocky Mountain states brought growers approximately $25,000,000.

CHAMBERLINO CHILD DROWNED.
Chamberlino, N. M. June 1.—The little two year old baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. J. Padilla fell in the Chamberlino canal just above the Johnson farm and was drowned. The accident occurred about 5 o'clock in the evening and the body was recovered about 6 o'clock just 19 feet below where the accident occurred. The child's clothes had caught on a bush which was growing on the slumping bank.

Many cars are tied up in El Paso waiting to get through San Marcial. Among the El Pasoans who will go to California are A. Nantz and O. M. Metz, who will leave next Sunday.

DELEGATES OF SOUTHERN STATES CONTEST SEATS
(Continued from Page One.)

being opposed by a delegation headed by Victor Lohel, of New Orleans.

The contesting delegation is listed among those favorable to Wood and to Frank H. Hitchcock.

The committee does not hope to get further than the Louisiana contest in its work today.

Headquarters Blooming Out.
While the committee is at work on contests, things are beginning to stir about the headquarters of the presidential candidates and their managers. Chicago hotels, already overcrowded with an abnormal business, are beginning to show the symptoms of a campaign week of noise and confusion.

Headquarters are blossoming out with banners and lithographs, but the campaign managers have not yet assumed the state of confident predictions. Only two of them, Governor Lowden and Gen. Wood are in the city. But Senator Harding and Senator Johnson will arrive later in the week.

Estimates of the probable duration of the contest are as numerous as the candidates are various. Some confident ones have made railroad reservations to return home on Thursday of convention week. The prediction that a presidential candidate probably will be nominated Friday night and a vice-presidential candidate on Saturday seem to be regarded among most of the politicians as probably being most accurate than any other.

Program for Next Week.
The generally accepted tentative program seems to be Tuesday for temporary organization and keynote speeches; Wednesday for permanent organization and work of the resolutions committee framing the platform, leaving Thursday and Friday for balloting. Most of the delegates as far as to make predictions of what is going to happen on the first, second and third ballots. Many of them are as far as to make predictions of what is going to happen on the first, second and third ballots. Many of them are as far as to make predictions of what is going to happen on the first, second and third ballots.

It took three ballots in 1916 to nominate Charles Evans Hughes and that was the first time since 1904 that more than one ballot had been required to nominate a candidate. In 1904 and 1908 the nominations were made by acclamation.

NEFF HITS AT THOMASON
IN WICHITA FALLS TALK
Wichita Falls, Tex. June 1.—F. Neff entered the gubernatorial race without consulting anyone except his family. He declared in an address here last night. Neff referred to Thomson as an opponent who lives as close to San Francisco as he does to Wichita Falls, and he referred to Bailey as a man who lives out of the state entirely. Neff pleaded for a rearrangement in the educational system of Texas, which would give the country boy the same educational advantages as the city boy.

R. E. THOMASON'S SPEAKING
DUES FOR WEEK ANNOUNCED
Dallas, Texas, June 1.—R. E. Thomson will speak at Lockhart Tuesday night, San Marcos Thursday night, Hears Friday afternoon, Calvert Friday night and El Paso Saturday afternoon. It was announced at his headquarters here today.

Birth Story
Is Impossible,
Says Doctor
(Continued from page 1.)

children in her home were adopted and that she had registered them as her own. She told him, the witness said, that one child was born in the rescue home and another was the child of her niece.

Mrs. Nora Collins, a former witness, was recalled in order to submit a letter, admitted by the defendants as having been written by Mrs. C. J. Connell. The letter read as follows:

El Paso, Texas, April 28, 1919. Seeing your ad in today's Herald I know to answer. I want him so badly, not because I have none, because I have four, none of them mine by birth, but all mine by right of love. I can not give him riches, but I can give him a mother's love and care, a home with everything in the world a baby needs; and a name that so far has been free from stain of any kind, for I do not adopt my babies, but register them as my own, thus leaving no record in the world that they are not mine. In that way no one knows but what they are mine and there is no record to prove I did not bear them.

"So if you are looking for a permanent home for baby, and want to give him away for good, I hope you will consider this plan." (Signed) "Mrs. W. B. Jones, 1104 East San Antonio, phone 1934."

Orin Baker, husband of the petitioner, testified to his marriage with Mrs. Jones, his love for her and his willingness to take the child into his home as his own. He declared that his wife occasionally "cried over the baby's clothes, a little tub and a basket. He said he purchased little white bed for the baby when it was returned to the mother."

"Witness of Adopting Babies." In Q. O'Connell, a druggist, testified to conversations with Mrs. McConnell, in which she had stated that the children were not hers but were adopted.

"It impressed me that the woman made a business of adopting babies," he said.

Mr. McConnell, who is conducting the case for his wife, took the witness stand and explained to the jury that he was confused and excited when he testified before and called Mary Estelle when he meant Mary Teresa.

Dr. H. H. Geer testified that Mrs. McConnell had told him that she adopted many babies and that her husband thought they were his. He said Mrs. McConnell telephoned him Friday or Saturday regarding some statements he had made in connection with the case.

Mrs. McConnell, little white bed for the baby when it was returned to the mother."

Terence Paffino and Mrs. Santos Rimando, both acting as midwives, answered hypothetical questions.

U. S. MARSHAL GOES TO DEL RIO.
J. T. Laughlin, United States marshal, who was recently transferred to El Paso from Del Rio, at his request, has again been placed in control of the Del Rio section. A. H. Woelher, deputy marshal, will assume charge of the El Paso office.

TROOPS UNDER ENRIQUEZ
BATTLE WITH VILLISTAS
(Continued from page 1.)

Adolfo de la Huerta, provisional president today, but he said those who had charges against them would have to face trial. A thorough diagnosis of de la Huerta's illness, which was declared today to be appendicitis, has shown his disease to be of a rather slight nature.

In a statement to the Associated Press, the provisional president declared he would give guarantees to all political candidates and would make efforts to improve the condition of workers and to develop national resources.

Criticism is invited.

"When I take the oath as provisional president of the republic, I wish the Mexican people to know I do not assume the office to serve the interest of any political party," he said.

"From an international viewpoint," he continued, "the diplomatic and commercial relations of Mexico with all other peoples in accordance with the fundamental principles of international law, justice and good faith."

"Finally, I wish to make known the federal executive will be pleased to accept comments and reasonable criticisms of his administration by the press and I sincerely solicit the cooperation of all honorable Mexicans in reaching a solution of the various political, economic and social problems before the people."

Diaz Ready to Retire.

Gen. Felix Diaz, who has been carried on a revolutionary movement in the state of Veracruz for some time, is willing to return to private life now that the overthrow of the Carranza regime has been accomplished, according to Gen. Luis Medina Barron.

On going out after the interview the diplomat looked for a beautiful girl painted in vain. The soldiers of the presidential guard relieved his anxiety. One of the most beautiful and most feared generals of the president had gotten into the car and ordered the chauffeur to drive off.

The diplomat thought some mistake had been made, and reported the matter to Don Venustiano. The president immediately sent an adjutant to the barracks where the general was, to keep in closer contact with a regiment of soldiers from the province who followed him blindly everywhere. The presidential emissary could not have been welcomed more warmly.

Challenge for the Don.
"Say, go back and tell the old man," thundered the rustic Marx, "that I have been looking for an automobile like that for a long time, and I am going to keep it. What does he think we made the revolution for? What does he think we made him president for? And if he doesn't like that, tell him come and get the silver bowl of mine, and I will lick the stuffing out of him."

Don Venustiano is a man of some "pep" himself. When he got that message he flew into a rage and started toward the door as though he really meant to go and get the automobile in person. But then he stopped and began to stroke his white, flowing beard.

"After all, I am president of the republic," he reflected.

So he ordered another automobile exactly like the one the diplomat had just used, and had it sent to the location.

Copyright, 1920, by V. Blazquez Ibáñez and the Chicago Tribune.

(Tomorrow Sr. Ibáñez tells why he credits Gen. Pablo Gonzales with responsibility for Carranza's fall, and compares Gonzales with Obregon).

TROOPS UNDER ENRIQUEZ
BATTLE WITH VILLISTAS
(Continued from page 1.)

Adolfo de la Huerta, provisional president today, but he said those who had charges against them would have to face trial. A thorough diagnosis of de la Huerta's illness, which was declared today to be appendicitis, has shown his disease to be of a rather slight nature.

In a statement to the Associated Press, the provisional president declared he would give guarantees to all political candidates and would make efforts to improve the condition of workers and to develop national resources.

Criticism is invited.

"When I take the oath as provisional president of the republic, I wish the Mexican people to know I do not assume the office to serve the interest of any political party," he said.

"From an international viewpoint," he continued, "the diplomatic and commercial relations of Mexico with all other peoples in accordance with the fundamental principles of international law, justice and good faith."

"Finally, I wish to make known the federal executive will be pleased to accept comments and reasonable criticisms of his administration by the press and I sincerely solicit the cooperation of all honorable Mexicans in reaching a solution of the various political, economic and social problems before the people."

Diaz Ready to Retire.

Gen. Felix Diaz, who has been car-

SUMMER DATE SEASON OPENS

Tuesday, June 1, in railroad circles marked first day of the summer season, and all trains leaving and passing through El Paso were reported to be crowded with tourists and vacationists. An extra Pullman car was added to the west bound El Paso & Southwestern train, but no car was available for the east bound train.

Garnett King, general passenger agent, announced last week that an attempt would be made to add an extra car to each of the trains Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Indications are, it was said Tuesday, that the equipment will not be available.

The consolidated offices have been crowded for several days and the summer passenger traffic has been growing rapidly.

The El Paso County Republican club at its meeting Monday night in the court house made plans to go into the 1920 campaign with a full slate of candidates for county offices.

J. O. McNary, president of the club, has gone to Chicago to attend the Republican national convention, as H. R. Daniels, vice president, presided over the meeting. By-laws presented for the approval of the club which new members about 125 were accepted without change. Minimum dues of $3 a year were specified.

T. S. Goetz, El Paso county delegate to the state Republican convention at San Antonio, will represent the county at a meeting of citizens in Cleveland square Friday night, as Republican nominees cannot be elected by that time.

At the next meeting, to be called shortly after the close of the national convention at Chicago, the national platform will be used as a guide for the adoption of a platform in El Paso county. Permanent officers will be elected at that time.

DELEGATES OF SOUTHERN STATES CONTEST SEATS
(Continued from Page One.)

being opposed by a delegation headed by Victor Lohel, of New Orleans.

The contesting delegation is listed among those favorable to Wood and to Frank H. Hitchcock.

The committee does not hope to get further than the Louisiana contest in its work today.

Headquarters Blooming Out.
While the committee is at work on contests, things are beginning to stir about the headquarters of the presidential candidates and their managers. Chicago hotels, already overcrowded with an abnormal business, are beginning to show the symptoms of a campaign week of noise and confusion.

Headquarters are blossoming out with banners and lithographs, but the campaign managers have not yet assumed the state of confident predictions. Only two of them, Governor Lowden and Gen. Wood are in the city. But Senator Harding and Senator Johnson will arrive later in the week.

Estimates of the probable duration of the contest are as numerous as the candidates are various. Some confident ones have made railroad reservations to return home on Thursday of convention week. The prediction that a presidential candidate probably will be nominated Friday night and a vice-presidential candidate on Saturday seem to be regarded among most of the politicians as probably being most accurate than any other.

Program for Next Week.
The generally accepted tentative program seems to be Tuesday for temporary organization and keynote speeches; Wednesday for permanent organization and work of the resolutions committee framing the platform, leaving Thursday and Friday for balloting. Most of the delegates as far as to make predictions of what is going to happen on the first, second and third ballots. Many of them are as far as to make predictions of what is going to happen on the first, second and third ballots.

It took three ballots in 1916 to nominate Charles Evans Hughes and that was the first time since 1904 that more than one ballot had been required to nominate a candidate. In 1904 and 1908 the nominations were made by acclamation.

NEFF HITS AT THOMASON
IN WICHITA FALLS TALK
Wichita Falls, Tex. June 1.—F. Neff entered the gubernatorial race without consulting anyone except his family. He declared in an address here last night. Neff referred to Thomson as an opponent who lives as close to San Francisco as he does to Wichita Falls, and he referred to Bailey as a man who lives out of the state entirely. Neff pleaded for a rearrangement in the educational system of Texas, which would give the country boy the same educational advantages as the city boy.

R. E. THOMASON'S SPEAKING
DUES FOR WEEK ANNOUNCED
Dallas, Texas, June 1.—R. E. Thomson will speak at Lockhart Tuesday night, San Marcos Thursday night, Hears Friday afternoon, Calvert Friday night and El Paso Saturday afternoon. It was announced at his headquarters here today.

Birth Story
Is Impossible,
Says Doctor
(Continued from page 1.)

children in her home were adopted and that she had registered them as her own. She told him, the witness said, that one child was born in the rescue home and another was the child of her niece.

Mrs. Nora Collins, a former witness, was recalled in order to submit a letter, admitted by the defendants as having been written by Mrs. C. J. Connell. The letter read as follows:

El Paso, Texas, April 28, 1919. Seeing your ad in today's Herald I know to answer. I want him so badly, not because I have none, because I have four, none of them mine by birth, but all mine by right of love. I can not give him riches, but I can give him a mother's love and care, a home with everything in the world a baby needs; and a name that so far has been free from stain of any kind, for I do not adopt my babies, but register them as my own, thus leaving no record in the world that they are not mine. In that way no one knows but what they are mine and there is no record to prove I did not bear them.

"So if you are looking for a permanent home for baby, and want to give him away for good, I hope you will consider this plan." (Signed) "Mrs. W. B. Jones, 1104 East San Antonio, phone 1934."

Orin Baker, husband of the petitioner, testified to his marriage with Mrs. Jones, his love for her and his willingness to take the child into his home as his own. He declared that his wife occasionally "cried over the baby's clothes, a little tub and a basket. He said he purchased little white bed for the baby when it was returned to the mother."

"Witness of Adopting Babies." In Q. O'Connell, a druggist, testified to conversations with Mrs. McConnell, in which she had stated that the children were not hers but were adopted.

"It impressed me that the woman made a business of adopting babies," he said.

Mr. McConnell, who is conducting the case for his wife, took the witness stand and explained to the jury that he was confused and excited when he testified before and called Mary Estelle when he meant Mary Teresa.

Dr. H. H. Geer testified that Mrs. McConnell had told him that she adopted many babies and that her husband thought they were his. He said Mrs. McConnell telephoned him Friday or Saturday regarding some statements he had made in connection with the case.

Mrs. McConnell, little white bed for the baby when it was returned to the mother."

Terence Paffino and Mrs. Santos Rimando, both acting as midwives, answered hypothetical questions.

U. S. MARSHAL GOES TO DEL RIO.
J. T. Laughlin, United States marshal, who was recently transferred to El Paso from Del Rio, at his request, has again been placed in control of the Del Rio section. A. H. Woelher, deputy marshal, will assume charge of the El Paso office.

TROOPS UNDER ENRIQUEZ
BATTLE WITH VILLISTAS
(Continued from page 1.)

Adolfo de la Huerta, provisional president today, but he said those who had charges against them would have to face trial. A thorough diagnosis of de la Huerta's illness, which was declared today to be appendicitis, has shown his disease to be of a rather slight nature.

In a statement to the Associated Press, the provisional president declared he would give guarantees to all political candidates and would make efforts to improve the condition of workers and to develop national resources.

Criticism is invited.

"When I take the oath as provisional president of the republic, I wish the Mexican people to know I do not assume the office to serve the interest of any political party," he said.

"From an international viewpoint," he continued, "the diplomatic and commercial relations of Mexico with all other peoples in accordance with the fundamental principles of international law, justice and good faith."

"Finally, I wish to make known the federal executive will be pleased to accept comments and reasonable criticisms of his administration by the press and I sincerely solicit the cooperation of all honorable Mexicans in reaching a solution of the various political, economic and social problems before the people."

Diaz Ready to Retire.

Gen. Felix Diaz, who has been carried on a revolutionary movement in the state of Veracruz for some time, is willing to return to private life now that the overthrow of the Carranza regime has been accomplished, according to Gen. Luis Medina Barron.

On going out after the interview the diplomat looked for a beautiful girl painted in vain. The soldiers of the presidential guard relieved his anxiety. One of the most beautiful and most feared generals of the president had gotten into the car and ordered the chauffeur to drive off.

The diplomat thought some mistake had been made, and reported the matter to Don Venustiano. The president immediately sent an adjutant to the barracks where the general was, to keep in closer contact with a regiment of soldiers from the province who followed him blindly everywhere. The presidential emissary could not have been welcomed more warmly.

Challenge for the Don.
"Say, go back and tell the old man," thundered the rustic Marx, "that I have been looking for an automobile like that for a long time, and I am going to keep it. What does he think we made the revolution for? What does he think we made him president for? And if he doesn't like that, tell him come and get the silver bowl of mine, and I will lick the stuffing out of him."

Don Venustiano is a man of some "pep" himself. When he got that message he flew into a rage and started toward the door as though he really meant to go and get the automobile in person. But then he stopped and began to stroke his white, flowing beard.

"After all, I am president of the republic," he reflected.

So he ordered another automobile exactly like the one the diplomat had just used, and had it sent to the location.

Copyright, 1920, by V. Blazquez Ibáñez and the Chicago Tribune.

(Tomorrow Sr. Ibáñez tells why he credits Gen. Pablo Gonzales with responsibility for Carranza's fall, and compares Gonzales with Obregon).

TROOPS UNDER ENRIQUEZ
BATTLE WITH VILLISTAS
(Continued from page 1.)

Adolfo de la Huerta, provisional president today, but he said those who had charges against them would have to face trial. A thorough diagnosis of de la Huerta's illness, which was declared today to be appendicitis, has shown his disease to be of a rather slight nature.

In a statement to the Associated Press, the provisional president declared he would give guarantees to all political candidates and would make efforts to improve the condition of workers and to develop national resources.

Criticism is invited.

"When I take the oath as provisional president of the republic, I wish the Mexican people to know I do not assume the office to serve the interest of any political party," he said.

"From an international viewpoint," he continued, "the diplomatic and commercial relations of Mexico with all other peoples in accordance with the fundamental principles of international law, justice and good faith."

"Finally, I wish to make known the federal executive will be pleased to accept comments and reasonable criticisms of his administration by the press and I sincerely solicit the cooperation of all honorable Mexicans in reaching a solution of the various political, economic and social problems before the people."

Diaz Ready to Retire.

Gen. Felix Diaz, who has been carried on a revolutionary movement in the state of Veracruz for some time, is willing to return to private life now that the overthrow of the Carranza regime has been accomplished, according to Gen. Luis Medina Barron.

On going out after the interview the diplomat looked for a beautiful girl painted in vain. The soldiers of the presidential guard relieved his anxiety. One of the most beautiful and most feared generals of the president had gotten into the car and ordered the chauffeur to drive off.

The diplomat thought some mistake had been made, and reported the matter to Don Venustiano. The president immediately sent an adjutant to the barracks where the general was, to keep in closer contact with a regiment of soldiers from the province who followed him blindly everywhere. The presidential emissary could not have been welcomed more warmly.

Challenge for the Don.
"Say, go back and tell the old man," thundered the rustic Marx, "that I have been looking for an automobile like that for a long time, and I am going to keep it. What does he think we made the revolution for? What does he think we made him president for? And if he doesn't like that, tell him come and get the silver bowl of mine, and I will lick the stuffing out of him."

Don Venustiano is a man of some "pep" himself. When he got that message he flew into a rage and started toward the door as though he really meant to go and get the automobile in person. But then he stopped and began to stroke his white, flowing beard.

"After all, I am president of the republic," he reflected.

So he ordered another automobile exactly like the one the diplomat had just used, and had it sent to the location.

Copyright, 1920, by V. Blazquez Ibáñez and the Chicago Tribune.

(Tomorrow Sr. Ibáñez tells why he credits Gen. Pablo Gonzales with responsibility for Carranza's fall, and compares Gonzales with Obregon).

TROOPS UNDER ENRIQUEZ
BATTLE WITH VILLISTAS
(Continued from page 1.)

Adolfo de la Huerta, provisional president today, but he said those who had charges against them would have to face trial. A thorough diagnosis of de la Huerta's illness, which was declared today to be appendicitis, has shown his disease to be of a rather slight nature.

In a statement to the Associated Press, the provisional president declared he would give guarantees to all political candidates and would make efforts to improve the condition of workers and to develop national resources.

Criticism is invited.

"When I take the oath as provisional president of the republic, I wish the Mexican people to know I do not assume the office to serve the interest of any political party," he said.

"From an international viewpoint," he continued, "the diplomatic and commercial relations of Mexico with all other peoples in accordance with the fundamental principles of international law, justice and good faith."

"Finally, I wish to make known the federal executive will be pleased to accept comments and reasonable criticisms of his administration by the press and I sincerely solicit the cooperation of all honorable Mexicans in reaching a solution of the various political, economic and social problems before the people."

Diaz Ready to Retire.

Gen. Felix Diaz, who has been car-

EXPORTS SHOW HUGE INCREASE

Increase of exports from Mexico since the new revolutionary government took control is shown by the American consular invoice books at Juarez.

During the month of May there was imported through the port of Juarez shipments to the total value of $118,214, while during the entire year of 1919 shipments through the port only reached the sum of $745,370.

Of the May shipments the greatest was sugar, of which was passed 2,124,488 pounds, valued at $269,225. The next item in point of importance was silver bullion, of which was imported a total of 5,179 ounces valued at $23,580.

the country boy the same educational advantages as the city boy.

R. E. THOMASON'S SPEAKING
DUES FOR WEEK ANNOUNCED
Dallas, Texas, June 1.—R. E. Thomson will speak at Lockhart Tuesday night, San Marcos Thursday night, Hears Friday afternoon, Calvert Friday night and El Paso Saturday afternoon. It was announced at his headquarters here today.

Birth Story
Is Impossible,
Says Doctor
(Continued from page 1.)

children in her home were adopted and that she had registered them as her own. She told him, the witness said, that one child was born in the rescue home and another was the child of her niece.

Mrs. Nora Collins, a former witness, was recalled in order to submit a letter, admitted by the defendants as having been written by Mrs. C. J. Connell. The letter read as follows:

El Paso, Texas, April 28, 1919. Seeing your ad in today's Herald I know to answer. I want him so badly, not because I have none, because I have four, none of them mine by birth, but all mine by right of love. I can not give him riches, but I can give him a mother's love and care, a home with everything in the world a baby needs; and a name that so far has been free from stain of any kind, for I do not adopt my babies, but register them as my own, thus leaving no record in the world that